IN MEMORIAM

Anna Maria Granillo
September 16, 1946 – June 2, 2012

Anna Villalobos peacefully passed away on June 2, 2012 in Gilroy, surrounded by her loving family.

She had a smile that would set the atmosphere with peace, happiness and serenity. Along with her amazing smile, she had a sweet, calm and soothing voice that comforted all those that were privileged to talk to her, as she had a kind and caring heart.

Anna was a woman who devoted her life to praying for others. If she said she'd pray for you, you could expect an answer to your prayer request. Her faith helped support not only her immediate family, but the many friends and relatives who looked to her for counsel over the course of their lives. She also had a servant's heart. She welcomed many into her home and was very hospitable to all, whether they knew her or had just had the privilege of meeting her for the first time.

Anna loved hard and was a selfless woman. If someone needed her, she gave them her undivided attention. She made people feel as though they were the only person around and what they had to say was important and really mattered. She especially expressed this to her grandchildren. She was a great (literally) grandmother. She made each of her grandchildren feel special.

Anna touched the lives of many students in the Salinas School District where she was employed for more than 30 years. She enjoyed her students and took pride in her work, and was well-respected by her fellow coworkers, students and parents. She was recognized by the California State Employee Association as the employee of the year. Throughout the years, Anna also volunteered for many local non-profit organizations in the Salinas area.

Anna is survived by her husband, Oscar Villalobos; her daughters, Sandra, Tricia and Nancy, and Joe Garcia whom she loved as her own son. She is also survived by her grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

A Celebration of Life service was held on June23, in Salinas.

The family requests that in lieu of flowers, a college scholarship will be set up in her name.

A lesson in positive thinking from Trina

Trina Northcutt

Elk Grove, CA, Trinalynn8@frontiernet.net

Well, it is back....the big "C". I've know for about a month now. Had surgery this morning to remove a lymph node in my neck. Pathology will be in Wednesday and at that time my oncologist will determine the mode of treatment. The surgeon can't make a diagnosis but a good friend who is a nurse went with me to talk to him while I was in recovery. He said it didn't look good. And per her medical interpretation it isn't the end of the world. It just means the surgery revealed further steps will have to be taken. I'll know Wednesday and keep you posted.

On the bright side. Surgery took 1 hour. And an hour later they were releasing me and we were off to lunch at the Golden Corral. I'm a hard one to keep down :) :)
Tomorrow I'm going shopping and very grateful for my job and my good insurance.

Wednesday Report: Returned from Oncologist today. Considering I have been dealing with a long term stubborn cancer the news is not that bad. It was a malignant lymph node. 99% chance it is the same cancer I have been dealing with. Slow growing but stubborn. Next week I get the nuclear treatment 3 hours in the tube.

By the time I finally kick the bucket, they can use my body to light up SF for a weekend. The results of that scan will determine the depth of treatment. Now for the really bad news Back to work Monday :(

Trina, we wish you continued strength and a positive outlook, Trina.....you go, girl!!!

(DOB 6/14) Jim McGauhey, Marysville WA, jmcgauhey@usa.net “I’ve been busy with work and stuff. But I did take a few hours on my birthday and went on a tour of the Seattle Aquarium. But not just any tour – this included a behind-the-scenes look at the food prep, pumps, filters, and dive systems. It takes quite an approval system to get the full tour approved by the brass (contamination and in-the-way concerns), but a couple of our higher up the ladder club volunteers persuaded them to donate a tour to our dive club banquet raffle. We won and got a great escorted visit. Technically we won a tour for four, which we figured for Mary, myself, and our two foster kids; but then son Ben showed up on his way from Maui to Alaska and was able to join us. He’s gone down a rung or two, from boat captain of a 60 ft, 139 pax snorkeling boat, to a licensed deckhand on a 230 ft ship taking only 86 pax on adventure tours of Alaska. His captain license (tonnage etc OK to run the ship, but not the experience) is used to run the small boats that take pax to shore for hiking and sightseeing. Anyway – they just made it a tour for 5 at the aquarium, so it all worked out well.

I was out of diving and flying for a few months with cataract surgeries and stomach surgery, but now all is well and healed and I’m back doing both. I dove a week ago, and passed the flight physical and have flown about 20 kids for Young Eagle flights, and flew to San Juan Island for lunch Saturday. Spent all day today tearing the plane apart and putting it back together for the annual inspection. The inspector is a good friend and past partner on this plane, so it went well.

I gave an unusual presentation at the Marine Science Technology center a couple weeks ago. I’ve been a “guest lecturer” there before (branch of Highline Community College) on taking underwater video, but this was a hands-on seminar. I brought some of my hi def video cameras, tripods, lights, etc and made a rough outline, then the “audience” went out and shot video per the rough script. Afterwards over the next week I edited and made a short promo video for the MaST center. I added a couple interviews I shot before, and some in and underwater footage, and just today got the OK from those who reviewed it to make it public.

Lots of editing, but it came out OK, for totally amateur camera operators, minimal script, no pro microphone system, etc. The participants had fun. See it here:

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HbvHR7-Ldac>

Here's a video of flying a couple Young Eagles. You might recognize them as the family in the MaST promo. Dusty (the dad) is the coordinator of their seminar program who asked me to do the promo. We used him and family as the actors instead of having to get releases from another family. Then I flew the kids, but one was too young, so he just got a back seat ride with mom.

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OHbftBAJvtg>

Any other classmates out there with grandkids, or friends, neighbors, etc age 8 to 17 who want a free plane ride should contact the Young Eagles office through their website (anywhere in the US and many other countries; but if around Seattle contact me directly):

<http://youngeagles.org/>

We (45,000 pilots) have flown over 1,700,000 kids. I've flown about 200. It's completely free, can't pay for gas, etc. As pilots we have to donate plane time and fuel. Each plane and pilot is different, but those I fly usually have the controls for most of the flight. It's easy if you don't have to worry about the radio, airspace, controllers, landing, etc.

So if anyone knows kids 8 to 17 in the Puget Sound area –
I fly to pick up Young Eagles!!

Or – come on up here to the Pacific Northwest!!

They say flying is the 2nd greatest thrill in life. .... Landing is the first.

Have a great B-day yourself. Let us know what you do. Jim”

(DOB 6/21) Carolyn, Greeley CO, cwinkuz@yahoo.com . ARE YOU KIDDING ME????!! You think I'm going to try and match your birthday excitement? How about I had dinner with my kids.

Diane and I have been married for 23 years. We live in San Diego Ca. I retired from UCSD in 2006 after 27 years of service. Diane is also retired, from San Diego city school district.. We don't have any children. I served in the Navy from Feb, 65 to Feb, 69 as a Sonar Technician 3rd. class. I also worked for the City of San Diego for seven years as an Equipment Technician.

I was home ported in San Diego aboard the USS Floyd B. Parks DD-884 as a surface sonar operator looking for submarines. After I got out of the Navy, I had friends here and felt that there was more opportunity here so I stayed in San Diego. I was a mechanic while at UCSD repairing landscape equipment. . Diane was an administrator with the school district.

At NSHS, I do remember Mr. Hansen who was my metal shop teacher. I lived at 41 Saint Francis Way, and Dad still lives there. He's 92 and seems to be doing fine.

That's behind the rodeo grounds. It was actually the last part of my junior year that we moved to Salinas from Tucson Az. We moved around a lot, as Dad got his promotions that way. Jeff
